

#17

General discussion around historical international policy trends, current international trends, and possible future trends. The presentation will highlight select themes for current international work on invasive species, especially from the U.S. government perspective. Discussion will focus on how information on international policy, trade, and invasive species can inform our future involvement in international invasive species issues.